What We Do

Post Care Support Service (PCSS) is a free and confidential service providing case management, service coordination and advocacy for people who have experienced out of home care for six months or more.

This might include DCP residential care, foster care or kinship care. PCSS is funded by DCP, however operates independently from DCP. We work alongside Anglicare SA and KKY to provide support to people across South Australia.

*PCSS is not a crisis program. However, support facilitators can provide suggestions around services that can provide crisis support if you need.

Voluntary Service

Voluntary service means that it is your choice to engage with us, and we will work with you, not do things for, or to you.

You are the expert in your own life, and our role is to support you in identifying your goals and finding the right support to achieve them.

Eligibility

You may be eligible for support if you have experienced out-of-home care for six months or more in South Australia, or if you live in SA after spending six months or more in out-of-home care interstate.

PCSS priority group is people 17-25 years. However, the program can sometimes support people outside this age group based on their individual circumstances.
